Ensure that local laws are always accurate, well-organized and easily-accessible to your community

Codification allows your legislation to be gathered by topic and systematically arranged into an enforceable code of laws that municipal officials and constituents can easily reference to find and understand the current laws that affect your community.

What's your community's need?

Create a new code: We work closely with your community to compile your ordinances into a print and/or online code that's organized, accurate and enforceable.

Update my current code: Regular code updates help guarantee that your community always has a current, accurate and enforceable resource.

Get an Editorial & Legal Analysis: Our legal and editorial experts use their knowledge and experience to identify conflicts, inconsistencies, duplication and statutory compliance issues in your code and recommend changes.

Codification powered by Code Review brings your code to life

With a focus on the review phase of the code project, this proprietary technology connects your General Code project team and your codification stakeholders. Together you can manage the major milestones of your code project while eliminating paper reports, printed legal memorandums or Legal Workbooks.
